the people, and am convinced there is not a tithe of the drunkenness among them that there is with us; and, so far as I can learn, there is not now, and never has been, a temperance society of any kind. I cannot learn that there ever has been an attempt to make the manufacture or sale of liquor disreputable. There certainly is no odium attached to it. The most respectable grocers keep a supply of fermented and mait fiquors, and they are in universal use. Beer is as staple an article of household consumption as bread or cheese. Old and young, male and female, drink it. They take it with their meals instead of tea; and, in the five months in which I have been watching for drunken folks, I have seen two men partially intoxicated. There has been one frightful murder committed, in cold blood, for money; but I have not heard of any one being killed, or seriously hurt, in a drunken brawl; yet the people do not confine themselves to malt and fermented liquors, for brandy and whiskey are as easily obtained as wine, and I have not been able to learn that there is any more restriction on the sale than on that of tea or tebacco. There is no disgrace, no penalty, attached to their man utacture, sale or use. These are reserved for the abuse. Each person is required to govern his or her own appetite, and failing to do so, bears the consequence alone.

Ammonia Soluble Phosphate of Lime.....22.18 The most concentrated, universal and durable fertilizer ever offered to the tarmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guane, and the ever durable tertilizing properties of Bones. In fine dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling.

After eighteen years' experience by the farmers of Maryland and Virginia in the use of "Excelsion" on their wheat crops, it is their opinion that an application of 101 pounds is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fortilizer of guano, and therefore fully 100 per ct. cheaper.
